

Vehicle Accident Rehab

Rehabilitation from motor vehicle accidents is a collaborative type of rehabilitation with the ultimate goal of returning the client to the physical state that they were in prior to the injuries. This type of rehabilitation will often require many different health care providers and may include blended treatments. For example, a blended treatment might include active rehabilitation with massage or may incorporate treatments like acupuncture, hydrotherapy, and chiropractic care.